

Yellow Brick House is an organization dedicated to empowering women and their families providing direct assistance to them as they rebuild their lives after an experience of violence. We also raise public awareness of violence within our communities through our Public Education programs.

This year, through the direct assistance of the Ministry of Citizenship and Immigration, we are fortunate to be able to offer workshops and other events about abuse developed specifically for newcomers and immigrants to Canada.

Healthy Homes is a public education program which aims to provide culturally sensitive and appropriate presentations and workshops, to other community organizations with the goal of providing information and engaging the participants on topics that include:

- Healthy vs. Unhealthy Relationships
- What is abuse?
- How to identify abuse/ what are the warning signs?
- How to get help and support / What to do if you suspect you or someone you know is being abused
- What are the benefits of cultural diversity for social, economic and civic life
- The importance of safety in our community
- Providing relevant community resources

Yellow Brick House will be offering our “Healthy Homes” workshops and presentations at no cost to organizations and community groups who formally partner with us. Does your organization or community group qualify to partner with us?

- Does your agency provide services to a large number of newcomers and immigrants to Canada?
- Do you provide services to youth? Women? Families? Men? Children?
- Ability to sign a Memorandum of Understanding to formalize “Healthy Homes”- Yellow Brick House partnership?
